The department needs to update the Americans with Disabilities Act transition plans for highways, airports, buildings and harbors. The current transition plans are about 14 years old but shouldn't be more than three to five years old. This request would cover the plans for buildings and harbors. The plans for highways and aviation should be eligible for federal funds. The requirement for a transition plan is under the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 and the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990. The recent baseline assessment conducted by the Federal Highway Administration identified the lack of an updated plan as a critical finding.
