Detailed Project Description and Justification:

Once a month, for a number of years, a dance has been held at Homesteaders. Prior to this year, the folks were dancing on a few pieces of plywood laid down on old the rug. This was a little dangerous. Anyway, the members got together and raised enough money to cover the cost of both the flooring and installation. This is the only renovation done since 1995.

Now we really need to bring the plumbing, electrical, kitchen, and storage areas up to date. But of the utmost importance is getting enough money this spring to cover the cost of putting another sink and a vent in the kitchen. This project involves plumbing in the crawl space and installing the vent up through the walls and roof. These additions are needed in order to bring the Kitchen up to code with the D.E.C. The kitchen cannot be used by others in the community until this project is completed. Renting out the building is one way that Homesteaders pays for the utilities, insurance, security, and other small general repairs for normal upkeep of the building; so local citizens will want to use it for meetings, parties, weddings, and other community get togethers. We would like to apply for a maximum $50,000 Community Grant from the State of Alaska.
