

State of Alaska FY2009 Governor's Operating Budget

Department of Health and Social Services Adult Public Assistance Component Budget Summary

Component: Adult Public Assistance

Contribution to Department's Mission

Provides financial assistance for basic living expenses to needy elderly, blind or disabled individuals.

Core Services

- The Adult Public Assistance Program (APA) was created to supplement Social Security benefits for elderly and disabled Alaskans. The program provides the recipient with the income support and access to medical care needed to remain as independent as possible in the community.
- Each month benefits are issued to APA clients in an amount equal to the maximum supplemental payment scheduled less adjustment for any income the individual receives.

FY2009 Resources Allocated to Achieve Results

FY2009 Component Budget: $57,231,400	Personnel:
	Full time	0
	Part time	0

Key Component Challenges

- The number of people applying for help from the Adult Public Assistance (APA) program is expected to continue to grow. The increased need mirrors the shifting demographics in Alaska and appears to be resulting from a combination of increased state population, improved medical technology, and an aging "baby boom" cohort. Some recipients experience permanent disabilities and are likely to rely on the APA program for their entire adult lives. Continued APA funding provides critical financial assistance enabling them to live with dignity in the community.
- Efforts continue to settle a class action lawsuit concerning the medical review policy implemented in FY04 that was intended to control the growth of Interim Assistance by instituting a more thorough assessment of a person's medical condition and approving payment to applicants likely to meet the Social Security disability criteria. The court ruled that retroactive benefits be paid to class members who were denied Interim Assistance payments prior to the department's adoption of an administrative code to support the medical review policy; however, the lawsuit is still being litigated. Approximately $78.0 may need to be set aside in this component for final settlement of this lawsuit. It is unknown when the litigation will be completed.

Significant Changes in Results to be Delivered in FY2009

- The number of elderly and disabled Alaskans who rely on the Adult Public Assistance (APA) program to meet basic needs continues to grow, but at a lower rate of increase. Program changes implemented in FY04 and FY05 helped reduce the rate of APA caseload and expenditure growth.

Major Component Accomplishments in 2007

- The Interim Assistance medical review process continues to result in program savings by ensuring individuals approved to receive Interim Assistance are likely to meet the Social Security definition of disability.
- Enhanced services to Adult Public Assistance (APA) recipients, who wish to work, coupled with on-going efforts to improve service delivery to working clients, are expanding the capacity of the APA program to promote employment and self-sufficiency.

- DPA continues to participate in the federally funded Alaska Works Project, the “Customized Employment Grant” in partnership with the Division of Vocational Rehabilitation, and other state initiatives aimed at helping persons with disabilities go to work. The initiative is designed to address the major barriers that keep people with disabilities from having success in the workplace. The project relies on a coordinated and innovative service delivery system that eliminates barriers preventing Alaskans with physical and mental disabilities from becoming employed.
- An average of 206 individuals per month are purchasing Medicaid coverage through the Working Disabled Medicaid Buy-In program. These individuals are former recipients who are now employed and no longer receiving APA.
- Benefits were provided to approximately 5,000 elderly and approximately 11,700 disabled Alaskans in FY07.
