Detailed Project Description and Justification:

Project would fund construction of a clinic for visiting physicians and mental health services in Coffman Cove. Alaska Island Community Services (AICS) provides medical services to Coffman Cove and Northern Prince of Wales Island. The current clinic is a make-shift arrangement in the local Baptisit Church. The facility is inadequate for proper and private medical care. The City of Coffman Cove has been trying for over 10 years to obtain funding and build a local clinic. Residents from the nearby communities of Whale Pass and Naukati will also benefit from our clinic. The city has provided the land, utilities, and is willing to manage the construction through a force account. Coffman Cove has proven we can maintain buildings, utilities and services. The project is supported by the City of Craig, the Prince of Wales Community Advisory Committee, and AICS in Wrangell.
