Project Description/Justification:

The PMC is currently utilizing an old grainery for pesticide storage. Pesticide storage requires a secure facility and this wood structure built in the 1950s has been used by the PMC for pesticide storage since 2002. Prior to that time, the UAF Experiment Station Facility was used on a cost share basis. UAF no longer has funding to operate the facility.

The funding request will allow for the purchase and placement of a properly designed storage facility and associated wash rack for application equipment. This is a necessary facility on a working farm.

This new facility will reduce annual operating expenses with lower heating costs, eliminate unnecessary product loss, and provide a more secure storage facility.

Why is this Project Needed Now?:

To secure and protect chemicals used for farm applications.
