*Funding Details:The City's share for this project will come from Harbor Fund Reserves.Detailed Project Description and Justification:

This project will upgrade and widen the apron and approach to Petersburg's existing commercial crane dock facility. Presently the 19-foot approach is the sole access point to both the crane dock facility and the north end pedestrian ramp of the South Harbor. These improvements will help alleviate much of the congestion and unsafe conditions of this high traffic area. This project will also increase efficiency for the large fishing fleet that uses the two cranes located on the dock. Fishing vessels and utility vehicles compete for the use of the facilities and there are often long waits. Trailers and vessels often block access to one of the cranes as commercial gear and provisions are loaded on and off.

Funding for this project will support retention of a consultant engineer to prepare bid-ready plans and design; permitting; survey and geotechnical investigation; preparation for and construction of dock apron and abutment; construction and installation of additional pilings and dock structure; and facility power and lighting systems.
