Juneau Family Health and Birth Center - Electronic Health Record System

State Funding Requested: $12,000House District: Juneau Areawide (3-4)

One-Time Need

Brief Project Description:

Start up costs for the purchase, installation, and initial training for electronic health records software. Purchase and installation of hardware including computers, server, and individual notebook tablets for use by healthcare providers.

Funding Plan:

Total Project Cost:	$131,000
Funding Already Secured:	($108,000)
FY2013 State Funding Request:	($12,000)
Project Deficit:	$11,000

*Funding Details:$50,000 grant from the State of Alaska, appropriated by the Alaska Legislature in 2011.$8,000 grant from Alaska e-Health Network toward the cost of training on the new EHR$50,000 loan from Wells Fargo BankDetailed Project Description and Justification:

The Juneau Family Health and Birth Center (JFHBC) is moving into Electronic Health Records (EHR) to stay abreast of current healthcare technology. Benefits of EHR systems include improved quality of care through timely access to essential medical information; improved patient safety through reduced medical errors; reduced healthcare costs through electronic billing, charts, and decreased paperwork and admin costs; and greater privacy and security of patient records. EHR will help the center continue improving the quality of care for patients and its communication with other providers in Juneau and around the state. After significant research, JFHBC narrowed the field to two software companies, both of which are recommended by Alaska E-health Network.

EHR is a considerable expense and federal EHR incentives are not available for half the center's healthcare providers (physician assistants and direct-entry midwives.) The center plans to take advantage of incentives available to the remaining providers: (certified nurse midwives and one physician.) Because these will be paid over 5 years after EHR is in place and meets established criteria. This will help with, but does not provide the means to cover the initial expense.

JFHBC's budget is limited and Juneau is not eligible for 330 Community Health Center funding. The center meets much of this need in Juneau as a nonprofit health clinic, but this technology funding will enable JFHBC to continue providing essential services to the community.

ORGANIZATION BACKGROUND

JFHBC offers a "campus" of primary health care, midwifery healthcare, a birth center, social services and educational services for families, all in one location. The center serves Southeast Alaska families; especially families who are at-risk and under-served. Its expanded community clinic and birth center is affordable and accessible to all, to best meet the healthcare needs of Southeast Alaskans. JFHBC's goal is to meet the needs of each individual, ensuring the best possible outcome for each person. Services include a range of family education and health care services including: family practice physician care for adults and children; prenatal, birth, and postpartum midwifery care; a free standing birth center; parenting, pregnancy and childbirth classes; family activities; exercise classes; family counseling services; and home-visiting for parenting support. Combining these services into one nonprofit means more financial efficiency, better health and social outcomes, and more quality access to care. Unique in the community and Southeast Alaska, JFHBC looks to enhance the quality of healthcare provided for all, but especially the medically underserved population: the uninsured and the underinsured. By providing a sliding scale and keeping overhead costs low, the center provides high quality healthcare that is affordable and accessible. No one is turned away for inability to pay.

EXPERIENCE AND QUALIFICATIONS

JFHBC successfully competes for grants from a diverse group of funders. The center works hard to maintain a broad base of financial and community support. Since the year 2000, JFHBC has received funding or grants from the Alaska Children's Trust for the Strength in Families program, the Alaska Department of Education & Early Development for drug & violence prevention, the Department of Health and Social Services both for Fetal Alcohol Syndrome prevention and Essential Program Equipment grants, and the Alaska Mental Health Trust.

These grants helped us substantially to expand our healthcare services. JFHBC has grown rapidly to meet the needs of Juneau and Southeast Alaska communities. The new facility opened in 2008, enabling the center to expand its services. Funders included the Denali Commission, the Rasmuson Foundation, the State of Alaska, the Kresge Foundation, The federal Department of Housing & Urban Development, the Murdock Charitable Trust, the Paul G. Allen Foundation, the City & Borough of Juneau, the Alaska Mental Health Trust Authority, the Skaggs Foundation, the Wells Fargo Foundation, and local businesses and individuals.

JFHBC managed all the grants mentioned above, conducting all of the necessary audits and filing all the required financial reports. The center is in good standing with all its funders and all reports have been filed on time. The center is frugal as an organization, with overhead costs kept low so that earned income can help fund its programs.

CONCLUSION

JFHBC's programs are designed to serve all families, regardless of economic distinction. Affordable health care services offered on a sliding scale help to meet the needs of the uninsured population. EHR technology will do much to help the center provide affordable, accessible, preventative healthcare, supported by the community in which we live.

Project Timeline:

Juneau Family Health & Birth Center signed a contract in November 2011. The first electronic charts 'went live' February 2, 2012. Final contract payments and staff training will occur when grant funds are available.
