The Department will eliminate an Office Assistant II position in the Fairbanks office that serves the entire department. An existing Administrative Assistant I in the Division of Administration (DAS) will take on all non-program specific duties such as mail distribution, answering the main phone line, and greeting the public. Program staff for each division will absorb any additional duties related to their programs.

This position resides in the Food Safety & Sanitation (FSS) component, but is paid for by all the Department's divisions through common cost pool structure coordination through DAS. The position will be deleted in FSS, but the cost savings from these efficiencies will be reflected in DAS. This reduction is reflected in the Contractual line because the common cost pool structure works as an RSA to the components and comes out of contractual costs.

A reorganization of how the Division of Environmental Health accounts for its administrative support positions will create efficiencies and allow the Division to better utilize federal indirect receipts.
The Program Coordinator I and Administrative Officer I located in the Director's Office component, and the Accountant IV located in the Drinking Water component, support each of the Division's programs equally and are currently split to all of the components. The Director's Office component lacks federal authority to charge administrative support expenses to federal indirect receipts.
The proposed change would unsplit the three positions and transfer the Accountant IV into the Director's Office component. Federal authority from the Laboratory Services component would also be transferred to the Director's Office as well to offset the additional costs. This will have no impact on services to the public.

The Department will eliminate an Office Assistant II position in the Fairbanks office that serves the entire department. An existing Administrative Assistant I in the Division of Administration (DAS) will take on all non-program specific duties such as mail distribution, answering the main phone line, and greeting the public. Program staff for each division will absorb any additional duties related to their programs.
This position resides in the Food Safety & Sanitation (FSS) component, but is paid for by all the Department's divisions through a common cost pool structure coordination through DAS. The position will be deleted in FSS, but the cost savings from these efficiencies will be reflected in DAS.

This work is consistent with and integral to SPAR's mission and core services, and is an allowable use of the Prevention Account of the Oil and Hazardous Substance Release Prevention and Response Fund.

The Department requests a fund source change from unrestricted general funds to the Prevention Account in order to maintain this vital program. In recent years there was concern about the solvency of the Prevention Account and it made sense to pay for this program with general funds. The Department projects that with revenues from the new surcharge on refined fuels, in addition to the decrements taken in FY2016, there will be sufficient funds in the Prevention Account for

Due to recent reductions and declining federal receipts, eight permanent full time positions that have been vacant long term will be deleted going into FY2016. Most of these five Environmental Program Specialists, one Engineering Associate, one Environmental Program Technician, and one Analyst/Programmer positions have been vacant six months or more and the Division of Water does not have sufficient funding for them in the current budget. There will be no significant impact on services to the public.

outreach to communities as well as local and tribal governments, working extensively on division regulations projects, and providing IT services. Water Quality will dissolve this program in FY2017 through deletion of positions and a reorganization of work and reporting structure.

Three positions from this program will be deleted including the Environmental Program Manager, Program Coordinator, and an Environmental Program Specialist IV. The supervision of remaining program staff will be reassigned to other programs, and the IT section will report directly to the Division Director. These reductions and changes will primarily result in less public outreach efforts by the division and a slowdown in regulations packages.

In addition, the Stormwater and Wetlands section in the Wastewater Discharge Authorization program will delete an Environmental Program Specialist III with anticipated minimal impact to the public.

The Water Quality component will also delete two Office Assistant positions in the Anchorage and Juneau offices and existing administrative staff will take on this work. This will impact the processing of applications and payments, as well as phone answering at certain times of the day in both locations.

Wastewater discharge will review fees that are established under AS 37.10.052 which will require a review at least once every four years. This fee study process calculates the actual program expenses, and updated fees are proposed based on the findings. These fees may not exceed the average reasonable direct cost incurred.

The Water Quality component is currently undergoing this fee study and anticipate new fee regulations will be proposed, subject to public notice, review, and comment, before the end of the current fiscal year. Based on early estimates, Water Quality will require additional general fund program receipt authority in FY2017 as a result of the fee study. The Department requests a fund source change of $400.0 from unrestricted general funds to general fund program receipts.

The Department would implement the $362.1 FY2017 unallocated reduction by reorganizing management supervision in the Water Quality component in the Division of Water.

The Environmental Program Manager III in Juneau currently oversees four program managers, was integral in the development of the Alaska Pollutant Discharge Elimination System (APDES), and supported reporting to the EPA on Nonpoint Source and Water Quality Standards. The APDES program has now matured to a point where the Department is seeing efficiencies and improved communication. The division director will now have seven direct reports. There will be an increased workload on the director and these direct reports.

The Engineer II in the Wasilla office provides support for the Engineering Support and Plan Review (ESPR) section. This position provides high-level engineering expertise to the Wastewater Discharge Authorization program, especially in the areas of onsite sewage treatment systems and compliance, and assists with regulations changes and program development.

ESPR reviews and approves plans for onsite septic systems throughout the State. This is already a lean program given the statewide workload. The workload of this position will shift to the remaining staff in the program, and a slowdown in turnaround times on plan review is possible, which could directly impact homeowners. An additional slowdown in program development could occur, increasing the time required to implement efficiencies in this program.
