Alaska’s Full CSFRF Award (both tranches) $1,011,788,220

Funding Received in First Tranche $505,894,110

Remaining Balance $2,943,641

These appropriations are necessary to address the most time sensitive needs within Alaska in response to the pandemic and economic recovery. Tourism recovery was a major focus of efforts because the combined total economic loss from a canceled cruise ship season in 2020 and 2021 amounts to $6 billion, with 2,180 businesses at direct risk – many of which are small family-owned businesses. Governor Dunleavy pledged to take the necessary steps to help Alaskans by putting forth an aggressive aid package to keep these businesses viable through to the 2022 tourism season.
Uses of Funds

Plans for the spending of the following appropriations are still in development and there is not further information to share at this time.

Further information for the other appropriations is provided below by category.

Public Health:

Domestic Violence and Sexual Assault Grants – this appropriation is necessary to ensure adequate support for victim service providers as they experience COVID-19 response and mitigation costs and address the social impacts of COVID-19.

COVID-19 spread rapidly around the globe, resulting in unprecedented physical, mental, social, and economic impacts. One social and public health implication of COVID-19 is seen in the impacts on domestic violence. Crisis situations, especially those involving social isolation, only exacerbate the conditions that are known to be risk factors for domestic violence. Early reports have documented alarming rates of increased domestic violence around the world. It is critical to ensure Alaska has the capacity to provide adequate victim services, and address needs as individuals feel safe enough to seek services post-recovery.

Negative Economic Impacts:

Replace Community FY21 and FY22 Cruise Ship Taxes Loss – tax revenue from commercial passenger vessels is shared with port of call communities. These appropriations are intended to make up for the loss of the Commercial Vessel Passenger (CPV) tax revenue for both fiscal years 2021 and 2022. The language is written so that the amount shared with local governments for each of these years is the same as what was shared for calendar year 2019, less any tax revenues collected. The FY21 tax collections are based on collections in calendar year 2020. Since there were no major cruise ship sailings in Alaska in 2020, there were no tax monies collected. The amount of funds that will be distributed in FY22 depend on tax revenues collected during calendar year 2021. There was a partial cruise ship season in 2021.

Replace Community FY21 Fisheries Business Taxes Loss – fisheries business tax revenue is shared with communities where fishery resources were processed. This appropriation is intended to make up for the loss of fisheries business tax revenue for fiscal year 2021. The language is written so that the amount shared with local governments is the same as what was shared for FY19, less any tax revenues collected. The amount in the appropriation is an estimate and the actual amount needed will not be known until after FY21 closes.

Revenue Loss:

FY21 Offset for CPVEC Revenue Loss – this funding is necessary to cover a State of Alaska FY21 revenue shortfall in the Commercial Passenger Vessel Environmental Compliance Fund (CPVEC) resulting from a lack of cruise ship traffic during the 2020 season. CPVEC funds support the activities related to regulating the discharges from commercial passenger vessels operating in Alaska waters.

FY22 UGF Offsets for Revenue Loss – the Alaska legislature appropriated $250 million to support general government services that would traditionally be supported with the State’s unrestricted general funds to offset losses experienced because of COVID-19. The government services supported by these appropriations include the Office of Public Advocacy, the Public Defender Agency, Goose Creek Correctional Center, Corrections Physical Health Care, Alaska State Trooper Detachments, Alaska Wildlife Troopers, the State Tax Division, and Trial Courts.

Promoting Equitable Outcomes / Community Engagement

Appropriations of this funding were informed by the following information/input.

An April 2021 report from the Alaska Department of Revenue, analyzed the far-reaching impacts to Alaska from cruise ship season cancellations. This includes state tax revenue and the portion of these taxes shared with local communities. This also includes direct impact to tourism, leisure, and hospitality business, as well as secondary impacts to other business in communities where tourism plays a significant role in the local economy.

A letter from the Alaska Municipal League Executive Director to the legislature, specifically highlighted the importance of a hold harmless provision for communities related to shared commercial passenger vessel and fish taxes.

A letter from the Alaska Native Heritage Center President and CEO to the Governor, highlighted the impact of COVID on Alaska-based cultural tourism operators. The letter references research that shows more than 51 percent of all visitors to Alaska participate in cultural activities.

On Friday April 9, 2021 Governor Mike Dunleavy proposed relief for the 2021 Alaska tourism season. Alaska was anticipated to welcome 1.3 million tourists by cruise ship before the pandemic. The combined total economic loss from a canceled cruise ship season in 2020 and 2021 amounts to $6 billion, with 2,180 businesses at direct risk – many of which are small family-owned businesses. Governor Dunleavy pledged to take the necessary steps to help Alaskans by putting forth an aggressive aid package to keep these businesses viable through to the 2022 tourism season.

Governor Dunleavy directed Lt. Governor Kevin Meyer to travel through the State to listen to community and business groups to gauge their needs and report their findings to the legislature. Starting on April 19th and continuing through May 3rd, the Lt. Governor began conducting meetings with affected groups and individual businesses. In person meetings were held in Juneau, Sitka, Ketchikan, Kodiak, Healy, Fairbanks, Anchorage, and Nome. Zoom meetings were held with groups from Hoonah, Juneau, Anchorage, Valdez, Skagway, Whittier, Homer, Wasilla, Haines, Unalaska, Cordova, Tok, Seward, and Petersburg.

The appropriations of this funding also went through the regular legislative budget process, which is informed by public comment and input from other special interest groups.

Again, many of the programs from appropriations to address these needs are still in development and further details on promoting equitable outcomes and community engagement are not available at this time.

Labor Practices

Alaska has not appropriated any of its State Fiscal Recovery Funds on infrastructure projects and has no related workforce practices to describe.

Use of Evidence
Many of the programs from appropriations of this funding are still in development and further details on use of evidence-based interventions are not available at this time.
