Project Description/Justification:

This project will work to benefit Exxon Valdez Oil Spill impacted species: sockeye salmon, pink salmon, and Dolly Varden, as well as Chinook and coho salmon and steelhead trout by carrying out restoration, rehabilitation, outreach and protection projects throughout the Kenai Peninsula. This project will help maintain healthy fish populations and continued opportunities for recreational, commercial, and subsistence fishing. This project will fund the following entities:

- Alaska Department of Fish & Game
- Kenai Soil and Water Conservation District (funds to be spent on private lands through a reimbursable agreement with the landowners; landowners will provide the 1:1 match).
